

ONS Hosts Successful 35th Annual Congress

ONS's 35th Annual Congress, held May 13-16 in San Diego, CA, attracted nearly 4,000 healthcare professionals who enjoyed more than 55 sessions as well as exhibits and ancillary events covering the latest in oncology nursing content.

A very special luncheon program also was held to honor ONS's 35th anniversary with inaugural members coming together to reflect on 35 years of oncology nursing excellence. A new Board of Directors officially took office at the ONS Business Meeting held on Saturday, May 15. Even though the Town Hall meetings are only held during conferences, you can also provide suggestions and feedback at any time.

If you didn't have a chance to attend this year's program, ONS is making it even easier than ever to participate virtually. Our virtual meeting offers access to synchronized slides, all handouts, and MP3 downloads of the sessions. Oncology nurses can earn up to 56.5 additional CNE credits through our virtual meeting.

This year, for the first time, ONS offered bonus live streaming content for those not onsite including two chats with the experts. Access the chat archives to hear from Bench to Bedside speakers Gayle Jameson and Daniel Von Hoff as well as Marty Polovich, editor of Safe Handling of Hazardous Drugs, who reviews the ONS and American Society of Clinical Oncology safety guidelines from the Exhibit Hall. In addition, ONS's social networking program is still live for anyone wanting to continue to stay connected to other attendees or speakers.

Don't forget to check out all of ONS's and its affiliates' award and scholarship winners too. ONS presented seven distinguished awards, along with more than 20 excellence, publishing, and lectureship awards, and another collection of prestigious awards, scholarships, and grants through the ONS Foundation and the Oncology Nursing Certification Corporation.
