Dear Chairwoman DeGette and Ranking Member Guthrie:

On behalf of the 34 undersigned Nursing Community Coalition organizations, representing the cross section of nursing education, research, practice, and regulation, we appreciate the Subcommittee’s work to examine and ensure the health and wellness of immigrant children.

As a profession, we are committed to the patient, the family, the community, and the populations our members serve. At the core of our education is holistic care that encompasses the physical and mental well-being of all—at any age and in any location. It is well documented that when immigrant children are detained and separated from their parents, they can develop toxic stress, which can adversely impact their development.1,2 Nurses are empowered to protect the most vulnerable populations. Children of immigrant families experiencing this stress are the embodiment of those our profession has committed to protect through compassionate and evidence-based care.

Our profession requests that action is taken to protect the health of immigrant children. Their young minds, their health, and their ability to thrive in the future is of utmost importance. If the Nursing Community Coalition can be of any assistance, please contact the coalition’s Executive Director, Rachel Stevenson, rstevenson@thenursingcommunity.org or at 202-463-6930.

Sincerely,
