Dear _____,

To advance the care provided to patients with cancer at our institution, I am requesting to attend Oncology Nursing Society's premier virtual conference, ONS Bridge™, on September 13 and 15, 2022. This live virtual conference is tailored to oncology nurses in direct patient care and will feature educational sessions on the latest developments in our field. Attending this event will also allow me the opportunity to connect with other nursing professionals and institutions, learn how they are improving their practice, and bring back information about new products and services to benefit our patients.

Through ONS Bridge, I can earn up to 20 nursing continuing professional development (NCPD) contact hours from a variety of sessions covering topics such as coordination of care and updates in therapy. The conference offers two days of live content and also features an on-demand library of session recordings that will be available through October 20, 2022. This virtual conference format will allow me to mix and match sessions to create a personalized conference experience, making it an efficient use of our continuing education budget and allowing me to experience this conference from home, eliminating travel fees. In addition, I will be able to share my new knowledge with colleagues to benefit our institution.

The moderate cost to attend is an investment in our institution.

- $209 (ONS members)
- $289 (nonmembers)

I would be happy to review the conference schedule with you to determine the most valuable sessions for me to attend during ONS Bridge. In the meantime, I have identified some topics of interest that I believe would be especially beneficial for me and for our nursing staff.

Sincerely,
