

ONS Publication Permissions

(including Reprints, Translations, and Archive Access)

All material published by the Oncology Nursing Society (ONS) is copyrighted by ONS and protected under U.S. and international copyright law. Unauthorized reproduction, distribution, and online posting of ONS copyrighted content is strictly prohibited. Permission from ONS is required to post online, reuse, reprint, publicly display, photocopy (other than for “fair use”—see below), or otherwise reproduce for any purpose ONS full-text journal articles or book chapters. The same also applies to tables, figures, and text excerpts that have appeared on the ONS website or in ONS journals, books, newsletters, promotional materials, courses, videos, or any other ONS publications or products.

Journal and Book Content Permission

To request permission to reprint, adapt, excerpt, post online, or otherwise reuse content from the Oncology Nursing Forum (ONF), Clinical Journal of Oncology Nursing (CJON), or an ONS book, complete the permission request form and email it to pubpermissions@ons.org. Please include as many details about your request as possible.

Photocopies

- “Fair use” under U.S. copyright law allows for single copies without permission for noncommercial use. Permission to make multiple copies of the full-text of an ONF or CJON article should be submitted to the Copyright Clearance Center at www.copyright.com.
- Requests to make multiple copies of content from ONS books and other ONS intellectual property (excluding journals) should be directed to pubpermissions@ons.org using the permission request form.
- ONS Connect: Blanket permission for photocopying any material in ONS Connect is granted to ONS members. Requests from nonmembers for multiple copies should be directed to the Copyright Clearance Center at www.copyright.com.
- ONS Position Statements: ONS position statements may be downloaded from the ONS website and reprinted without requesting permission.

Other Permission Requests

Requests for the following also should be directed to pubpermissions@ons.org using the permission request form.

- To reprint or otherwise reuse ONS intellectual property other than book or journal content, including but not limited to newsletters, online courses, web content, standards, competencies, evidence-based resources, tools, scales, and videos.
- To reprint or otherwise reuse material you originally authored.
- To reprint or otherwise reuse material for an ONS, Jones and Bartlett, or an APON publication.

Reprints

To purchase high-quality, professionally produced reprints (minimum 50) of ONF or CJON articles, ONS book chapters, or other ONS content, email reprints@ons.org indicating what and how many reprints you are interested in purchasing.

Translations

ONS publications and other resources can provide great value to international oncology caregivers, so ONS welcomes the opportunity to partner with other organizations to deliver ONS content to non-English speaking people. Individuals, publishers, and all others with an interest in translating ONS content should complete the translation request form and email it to pubpermissions@ons.org. ONS will evaluate and respond to each request. Translating and distributing, posting, or otherwise disseminating ONS content without permission is strictly prohibited.

Accessing ONF, CJON, and ONS Connect Archives

- ONF and CJON (2002 – present): ONS members can access (free of charge) full-text issues of ONF and CJON online dating back to 2002. Nonmembers can view articles on a pay-per-view basis.
- ONF and CJON (before 2002): To request an article that was published before 2002, email library@ons.org.
- ONS Connect: Current and past issues are available online to members and nonmembers.
